

HEAVY DUTY

As seen in Heavy Duty Issue 148
Sept/Oct 2016. Page 25.

Reproduced with the kind permission of HD.

SUPER SCOUT SUSPENDERS

New from class French suspension outfit, Fournales, comes the new all-alloy rear suspension units to suit the Indian Scout.

You probably know a lot of this, but for those that may have come in late, Fournales stuff is handmade in Toulouse, France, comes with a two-year factory warranty and its shocks are available in chrome or black finishes.

The shocks are totally rebuildable, meaning you can buy them once and never have to do it again. Fournales guarantees that you won't bottom out with a set of its shocks fitted.

The setup is pneumatic with hydraulic damping. The new alloy construction is even lighter than Fournales steel units and the air adjustment provides correct ride height whatever the load.

We've got a set of test units here at HEAVY DUTY ready to be fitted to a Scout and will report back as to how they perform very soon.

Fournales has a shock to suit most cruiser applications too.

For more info take a look at www.bertrandcadart.com.au